REV. DR. M'DANIEL ORATOR

Dr. Tompkins Announces Election of New Professors in Medical College.

The commencement exercises of the Medical College of Virginia took place last night in the City Auditorium before a brilliant audience, which must have exceeded two thousand people.

The platform was appropriately decorated with palms and greenery, music an orchestra, which made sweet music from time to time. About 8:30 the faculty of the college came to the platform from the left dressing-room, and a minute later the graduating class, in their college gowns and mortarboards, marched up the right aisle to seats opposite the faculty. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. K. Jollier, after which Dr. Christopher Tompkins, dean of the faculty, made a short address of welcome, as follows:

Dr. Tompkins' Address.

Ladies and gentlemen: We have assembled here to-night to celebrate the sixtieth annual commencement exercises of the Medical College of Virginia. We have had a most prosperous year, in spite of the fact that the requirements for entrance have been made much more severe and extensive, which naturally expected would greatly diminish the number of those who would apply for matriculation to maintain our fixed standard to which we have already attained, but to put forth our earnest efforts to advance still further. I have the pleasure of announcing that Dr. Robert F. Williams, who has removed his residence to a new field of labor in the State of Texas.

Dr. J. Mitchell Lewis was at the same time elected to fill the chair of operative technique and orthopedics in the department made vacant by the resignation of Dr. S. P. Hart, who lives in Ashland, and who found it impossible at that distance to continue his arduous duties.

At the same time Dr. H. T. Blackwell was elected to fill the chair of clinical medicine, made vacant by the death of the greatly lamented Dr. J. Hall Moore, so beloved by all who knew him and so well and so favorably known by his profession at large.

The gentlemen elected to the various chairs are all experienced, able teachers, and having been connected with the college for quite a long time.

In conclusion, I wish to say that our graduating class this year is composed of men of exceptionally high ability and character.

Professors' Cheers.

Prolonged applause greeted the announcements of the additions to the faculty, the name of Dr. Manfred Call being received with enthusiasm by both platform and audience.

Dr. Tompkins then conferred the degrees upon the graduates of the year, there being four graduates in pharmacy, eight in dental surgery and twenty-nine with the degree of doctor of medicine. Dr. Tompkins concluded this ceremony, in which the whole graduating class were grouped upon the platform, by a short and happy speech, in which he expressed his good wishes for the members of the graduating class, concluding: "May you live long and be happy."

The list of hospital appointments were then read, the names of several of the men being greeted by prolonged applause, in which the faculty joined.

Rev. Dr. McDaniel's Speech.

Dr. Tompkins then introduced the principal speaker of the evening, the Rev. George W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city.

Dr. McDaniel caught the attention of the whole audience by asking at the outset: "Can you hear my voice?" and when those in the back of the house answered "Yes," the doctor replied: "Well, you don't want to hear all you hear." The address was:

MAYOR SPEAKS TO YOUNG MEN

Successful Year at Mechanics' Institute Comes to Close With Interesting Exercises.

NEW CITY FLAG UNFURLED

John P. Lee, Jr., Wins Two Gold Medals—List of Honors.

The closing exercises of the Virginia Mechanics' Institute were held last night, the occasion proving one of the most notable in the history of the institution. President W. J. Whitelhurst presided at the session. Mr. Duke gave the invocation, and the exercises were introduced as the first speaker Superintendent Frank W. Duke, who has been associated with the institute during the past session. Mr. Duke gave a brief historical sketch of the work of the night school of technology, and spoke forcibly of the place this school holds in the hearts of the people of Richmond. He called attention to the fact that this institute is one of the mechanics' institutes in the country, and dates its origin from 1854.

From 1854 to 1883 the school was unable to open, first on account of the war, and later, on account of the depleted resources of this community following the war. The superintendent showed how the work has grown from 14 students in 1884 to 300 students in 1906, and 552 in the past session. The record of attendance is second to no institution of its kind whose records have been seen. The percentage of attendance during the past session was 81 per cent. The comparison with general percentage of the day public schools vary in attendance from 40 to 70 per cent.

Mayor Speaks.

Mayor Carlton McCarthy was gracefully presented to the audience by Vice-President Mann S. Quarles, whose position as chairman of the committee on schools, is a most onerous one. How well he has acquitted himself of this task was shown by the many evidences of successful work done by the students during the past session.

The address of Mayor McCarthy followed, and was replete with the characteristic wisdom of Richmond's Chief Executive. The Mayor took for his theme, "Preparation and Opportunity."

The young man should prepare for opportunity. Preparation is essential in every walk of life. It must be behind every piece of work creditably done. Young men should also possess patience. Patience is found in every great man, in fact, it is one of the marks of true greatness. Avoid impatience; it is at best but a waste of time.

Mayor McCarthy warned young men against the evil of allowing knowledge to get ahead of moral strength and power. Schools are not established to teach a man how to earn his living, but to mold his character, to give him a sense of duty, and to prepare him for some great purpose.

"Education," the Mayor continued, "should not interfere with character. It is the prime essential. Applied sciences are all very well, but in order to get the best from them, you have got to have a good character."

The Mayor spoke regarding the monetary conditions in this country. Money is not omnipotent, he said. Money is the servant of a great soul and the master of a small one.

Flag Unfurled.

In conclusion, the speaker said that the young men on leaving school and starting life would find he was not such a great power as he thought. He would receive rebuffs, but must not be discouraged. There are plenty more things yet to be done. This country is in its infancy and the world is young, and there will always be an opportunity for a man, a man who knows and is prepared, to accomplish something.

The Mayor's speech was very humorous and abounded in epigrams and forceful quotations. He held his audience from the start, and the applause which followed was prolonged.

The "Lou Morr" gold medal, the gift of Mr. Henry S. Hutzler for the best speech in the first year class in electricity, was delivered to John P. Lee, Jr., by Dr. P. C. Woodward. The Chevening medal, the gift of A. J.

Chewning, Esq., for proficiency in pattern-making, was also delivered by Dr. Woodward to the same young man.

The most striking feature of the evening was the unfurling of the new flag of Richmond, designed by the Mayor, with the help of local artists. Mr. B. Rand Wellford made a graceful speech in acknowledgment of the privilege the Mayor has been to the community, and predicted that his name would go down to posterity as the maker of the city emblem. The cheers of the boys and the strains of old "Dixie" made the halls resound with good-will to the city government, headed by its able chief.

ENORMOUS PARADE ON MEMORIAL DAY

After Stuart Monument Unveiling Troops Will March to Hollywood.

The complete program for the exercises in honor of the fifteen thousand Confederate dead in Hollywood Cemetery was issued yesterday by the officers of the Hollywood Memorial Association. The exercises take place on the afternoon of May 30th, the annual Memorial Day, which is a legal holiday in Virginia. The members of the military organizations will therefore have no difficulty in getting off for the great parade, which will grace the memorial exercises this year.

May 30th is the opening day of the Confederate Reunion, and will be a busy day in Confederate and military circles. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a great Confederate and military parade will be formed, which will move up Franklin Street to the J. B. Stuart Monument, which will be unveiled with appropriate exercises.

The parade will be composed of members of the Veterans Cavalry Association of the Army of Northern Virginia, and other veterans, military companies, Sons of Veterans, Confederate Memorial Association, Jefferson Davis Monument Association, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Hollywood Oakwood and Hebrew Memorial Associations, Common Council of the city of Richmond, in charge of Col. John W. Gordon, chief marshal, and Captain J. Thompson Brown, chief of staff and chairman of the parade committee.

Following the exercises at the Stuart Monument, the parade will be reformed, and move via Lombardy Street to Park Avenue, to Cherry Street, to Hollywood gate, arriving at the cemetery about 5:30 P. M. The parade and exercises in the soldiers' section of the cemetery will be in charge of the Veterans Cavalry Association of the Army of Northern Virginia, and the presiding officer will be Commander William B. Freeman, of R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, C. V.

The exercises in Hollywood consist of prayer, delivered by the Rev. D. G. B. Butler, pastor of Laurel Street Methodist Church; selection by Kossuth Band; introduction of speaker by Commander W. B. Freeman; address of the evening by the Rev. William Dudley

Apollinaris

"The Queen of Table Waters"

Powers; hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," which will be led by Captain Frank W. Cunningham, accompanied by the band, and in which the whole audience is requested to join.

The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. Landon R. Mason, of Richmond, and the parade dismissed at Hollywood gate.

The Rev. William Dudley Powers is an old Richmonder, who made his home here as a boy during the war. He is at present located at Flint, Mich. He has many relatives and friends in the city, and while here will be the guest of Mrs. William A. Powers, at 1700 Park Avenue.

The parade incident to the unveiling of the Stuart Monument and the memorial exercises in Hollywood on Thursday of next week will have a unique local interest aside from the Confederate associations that hallow Memorial Day, and also the peculiar affection which the people of Richmond have for the memory of General J. B. Stuart. In this parade for the first time the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, now over a century old, will publicly parade as a battalion of three companies. Every member of the three companies, with the battalion officers, will appear in brand-new uniforms, not yet seen on the streets of Richmond, while the two stands of colors recently presented to the organization will be borne in the parade.

The Howitzer Battalion, which will also parade, will show to the Richmond public for the first time its handsome new equipment, the recent gift of the United States government. This equipment is valued at $50,000, and includes four new guns, which will be used for the salutes in Hollywood. The Howitzers will have about seventy horses, and their battery alone will take up about two blocks in the parade.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Meeting Held to Consider Issue of Bonds for Gas, Electricity and High School.

The Finance Committee of the Council held a long and interesting meeting last night, at which it considered certain ordinances and resolutions providing for the issue of bonds for the purpose of constructing an electric light and power plant, of rehabilitating the gas plant and of constructing the new High School building. Other minor matters were considered.

The session of the committee was executive and no information was given out as to the result. It is understood, however, that the committee will recommend the issue of $250,000 of bonds for the construction of the electric light and power plant at the Old Pump House, $35,000 for the rehabilitation of the Gas Works, and about $350,000 for the new High School. It is said that the committee will recommend the issue of short-term bonds, to run twelve or fifteen years, for the gas and electric plants, and that an effort may be made to make the issue a popular one. The bonds for the construction of the High School, an enterprise which entails no money-revenue, will be thirty-four-year bonds.

The report of the committee will be made before the Council meets during the first week in June.

A MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Gains 12 lbs. on Change of Food.

When a change in food can rebuild a man 12 years of age it is evidence that there is some value in a knowledge that can discriminate in the selection of proper food to rebuild the body. A few months ago the physician attending a man 77 years old told him that death from old age would soon claim him. He had suffered from general weakness and debility.

An old lady advised him to quit coffee, drink Postum Food Coffee and eat Grape-Nuts food every morning. He took the advice, and has gained 12 pounds. Now he is as well as he ever was, and can take long trips in the mountains, which he had been unable to do for a long time.

There is a reason for this in the first place, coffee acts as a direct nerve destroyer on many highly organized people, both young and old, and many people haven't the knowledge to select nourishing, healthful, rebuilding food.

Both Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts food are made from selected parts of the field grains that contain all the particles of phosphate of potash and albumen. These two elements combine in the human body to quickly rebuild the gray matter in the brain and in the nerve centers throughout the body. Direct cure and certain results come from their use, and can be proven by any person that cares to make the trial. There's a Reason! Read "The Road to Wellville," in pages.
